

LOLLIPOP

LOLLIPOP is a red-skinned creamer variety that produces a consistently high-set of round uniform tubers. This mid-season white fleshed variety works well for the production of creamers as well as B's. Lollipop has an excellent taste and firm cooking texture. It has long dormancy.

TABLE/FRESH

WHITE FLESH

HIGH SET

SPECIALTY

Tuber Characteristics

- | | |
|----------------|--------------|
| • Tuber Shape | Round |
| • Flesh Color | White |
| • Eye Depth | Shallow |
| • Skin Color | Red |
| • Skin Texture | Smooth |
| • Dormancy | Very good |
| • Tuber Size | Fairly small |

Resistances

- | | |
|------------------|-------------|
| • Scab | Medium-low |
| • PVY | Medium-high |
| • Foliage Blight | Medium |
| • Tuber Blight | Medium-high |
| • Damages | High |
| • Bruising | Medium-high |
| • Nematodes | - |

Yield and Quality

- | | |
|--------------------|--------|
| • Yield | Medium |
| • Tubers per plant | 25-30 |
| • Cooking Type | B |
| • Dry Matter | - |

Remarks

- Red color intensifies during storage
- Holds red color when cooked
- Uniform tuber size and shape

